Human Origins Conference 2019

INN AT RIO RANCHO AND EVENT CENTER
MARCH 22-23, 2019

Rio Rancho, NM – The Human Origins Conference 2019, an annual event organized by Linda and Richard Smith, will be hosted at the Inn at Rio Rancho and Event Center, March 22-23, Friday and Saturday. Tickets are on sale now and the conference has an open call for vendor booths and sponsorship opportunities.

Sponsored by the Cydonia Institute, the New Mexico UFO and Paranormal Forum and the UFOteacher Global Initiative, the Human Origins Conference 2019 has an outstanding lineup of speakers including NASA whistleblower Ken Johnston, Video Shaman's spiritual journeyman Alexander Lipton, Karen Christine Patrick and Bret Colin Sheppard of the Lunar Anomaly and Earth Anomaly Research Societies, visionary author and experimenter Richard Smith and Collective Frequency's Anthony and Tammy Chino, as well as the Cydonia Institute's George J. Haas as seen on Ancient Aliens and Beyond Belief with George Noory. Visit humanoriginsconference.com for more information on each of our speakers.

Who are we? Where did we come from? Where are we going? What is the true history of the human race? Revealing the fascinating realms of Earth's cosmology, human origins, ancient history and lost wisdom, the Human Origins Conference carries a mission of sharing knowledge with the purpose of expanding the consciousness of humanity by presenting world-renowned researchers, writers and visionaries revealing such sensitive information.

The Human Origins Conference represents a serious approach to sensitive issues while remaining dedicated to providing hidden and suppressed knowledge on various topics that deeply affect us all, topics rarely addressed by our mainstream media. Be it economic, political or interstellar, this annual conference event targets those profound questions and global mysteries while aiming to actively inform the general public on the issues we are all facing together, as we come to terms with our own past, present and immediate future.

Linda and Richard Smith are the executive directors of the Human Origins Conference, which has a prime directive that focuses on getting the word out regarding extraterrestrial intervention, alien contact, the Moorish Legacy and the dynamic scope of our interstellar human origins here on Earth. The prime directive's mission includes a special focus on economic, social and geopolitical issues affecting Earth's ecology, spirituality, reincarnation, lost knowledge, ancient wisdom, linguistics and etymology, the human condition and current affairs, to name a few.

Linda and Richard Smith currently reside in Rio Rancho, New Mexico, and have been speaking locally and worldwide with author events, interviews, lectures and conferences. For more information on the upcoming Human Origins Conference 2019, please visit humanoriginsconference.com today.
